

BSI Management Systems

British Standards Institution ((BSI)) BSI Management Systems

BSI Management Systems operates world wide to provide organizations with independent third-party certification of their management systems, including ISO 9001 (Quality), ISO 14001 (Environment), OHSAS 18001 (Occupational Health and Safety), ISO/IEC 27001 (previously BS 7799 for Information Security), ISO/IEC 20000 (previously BS 15000 for IT Service Management) and Food Safety, including ISO 22000. In addition, BSI Management Systems offers a range of training services around management systems.

About BSI Management Systems

As a global provider of management systems assessment, certification and training services, BSI Management Systems is one of the world's leading certification bodies, with more than 60,000 certified locations and clients in over 100 countries.

Founded over 100 years ago, BSI has led the way in developing management systems standards, having pioneered the top six: including BS 5750, the forerunner to the ISO 9000 series which has been adopted by over three-quarters of a million organizations in 161 countries and BS 7750, the forerunner to ISO 14000.

Today BSI Management Systems offers assessment, certification and training services in all critical

Areas of management systems:

- | | | |
|---|--|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Business Continuity• Environment• Food Safety• Health & Safety | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Information Security• Integrated Management• Quality | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Social Accountability• Sustainable Development• IT Service Management |
|---|--|---|

With more full-time assessors than any other certification body, each carefully matched to the client's area of business, BSI Management Systems ensures consistency of experience, expertise and engagement. It also invests heavily in training, ensuring that assessors can go far beyond the technical scope of the audit itself, and be proactive in helping organizations improve their performance.

BSI Management Systems is also an accredited certification body with 20 accreditations held worldwide: independent assurance that it works to internationally agreed standards of quality and service.

BSI Management Systems

BSI is empowered by CEN to issue the Key mark against the following European standards:

EN 13162
EN 13163
EN 13164
EN 13165
EN 13166
EN 13167
EN 13168
EN 13169
EN 13170
EN 13171

BSI Product Services is best known in the UK for the Kitemark, the UK's first product quality mark. BSI Product Services exists to help industry develop new and better products and to make sure they meet current and future laws and regulations, from commercial construction to motorcycle helmets, from mobile phones to fire extinguishers, from car headlights to medical devices. It also provides third party certification, specifically for CE marking – a legal requirement for certain categories of products to be sold within the EU. The division also offers an exciting new range of schemes aimed at improving quality within service markets.

BSI Trade Mark means the logo owned by BSI and registered as a trade mark under the Trade Marks Act 1994 in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, as shown in The Schedule

The Kite mark

Reassurance

The Kite mark is one of the most well known and respected product certification marks in the world and is your reassurance that BSI has checked that your window complies with the latest British Standards.

Product Quality

Kitemark certification is voluntary and companies are not obliged to join. However, those that do are making a public commitment to the quality of their products.

Confidence

Companies who have the Kitemark have confidence in their product. They are required to give BSI unrestricted access to their offices and factories and allow random samples to be selected for testing on a regular basis.

